The background of the page is a large, monochromatic blue image of a stone relief sculpture. The sculpture depicts a tree with a human face, a motif known as the 'Arbre à visage humain' (Tree with human face). The face is formed by the branches and leaves of the tree, and it has a crown of leaves. The tree is set on a base that looks like a staircase or a series of steps. The entire sculpture is rendered in a light blue color against a darker blue background.
